“ Hey buddy. I really miss you. We started work the same day and went through training together. I remember watching those videos together and we'd have to nudge one another if we dozed off! Lol!!! You were a great guy and a true friend. I remember you laughing about how I loved to crawl under the houses and you didn't see how I could do it. Fly high Brother. You deserve it. Fair winds, and following seas. Until we meet again.

“ Alan I truly am still in shock. I worked with you for 2 years and you became my work dad! You always had my back. I miss your good mornings already. To Terrie and family if there is anything I can do I'm a call away. Rest in Heaven my work dad.

“ I am still in shock that Alan is no longer here. He has always been a shining star in our family. No matter how long it was in between seeing each other, it always seemed as though no time had passed. He was a wonderful husband, father and grandfather and a great cousin! He will truly be missed. Fly high and rest for now. Your journey on Earth has ended, however, your eternal life has just begun!
